BI-COUNTY FAIR A BIG SUCCESS

Several Thousand Visitors Attend. Parades Big Feature Of Entertainment.

The visitors to the bi-county fair held in Irvington, Friday and Saturday of last week, numbered into the thousands, and they were people who came from every section of Meade and Breckinridge counties. It was indeed a great coming together of the citizens of these adjoining counties, and the managers of the fair felt fully recompensed for their time and efforts in making this the biggest and best fair ever held in Irvington.

The fair grounds were on Mr. Ater's place near the city limits. All of the exhibits of the farm products, poultry, and the woman's pavilion were under cover of a large tent. The baby show was held there, and the 81st Military band made it their headquarters, consequently this was one of the most popular places on the grounds.

The cattle shows and riding contests were held in the open air arena and they greatly interested the stock breeders and farmers.

On Friday, the school children and ex-soldiers formed a parade and marched through the streets of Irvington. There was also a demonstration of the 75 M. M. guns and target shooting on this day too, and blue ribbons awarded to the cattle, hogs and poultry shows. In fact, there was nothing left out that was advertised for that day.

Saturday was a big day too. It was estimated that there were four or five thousand people on the grounds the second day and about four hundred automobiles.

Practically all of those who participated in Friday's parade were in Saturday's parade too. Decorated floats and cars formed in line with the others and made a fine showing for the representatives of the two counties.

A complete list of the prize winners at the fair will be published in next week's issue of The Breckinridge News as the list was not completed in time for this week.

SUMMER'S END

New York Sun.

My garden's very gay;
Vines and flowers all
In a pied array
Play at carnival.

But if you will come
You'll hear the cricket cry,
Telling summertime,
"Goodbye! Goodbye!"

Coxcomb, like the cry
Of a wounded thing,
Lifts its red head high,
A late blossoming.

Beloved of honeybees,
The orange Marigold,
Aromatic spreads
Fold on starry fold.

In the vivid throng
Here fringed asters are,
Each one with a heart
Likely a friendly scar.
Sometimes, now, it seems
That the garden tries
To give all she can
For me before she dies.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL HAS A GOOD CONVENTION.

Will Hold Its Next Session In Cloverport. J. Burn Elected President.

The County Sunday-school Convention held in Hardinsburg, Thursday was not largely attended owing to the Presbytery which was in session in Irvington, and its being a school days kept a number of persons away. However, the meeting proved a good one and those who did attend were feasted on fried chicken and home made cake galore.

Mr. John Burn, of Cloverport, was elected president of the convention to succeed D. D. Dowell. Vivian Pierce was elected secretary and Miss Addie McGavock assistant secretary. The next meeting place for the convention will be in Cloverport.

McQuady vs Lewisport.

The McQuady ball team under the management of J. R. Jolly, went to Lewisport, to cross bats with the Lewisport team which had not lost a game on their home diamond this season until this time, and when they began to buck up against the McQuady farm boys they soon found that they had something to do and that they were not in class to win the game. Scott Brown, of Irvington, their first man to put in the bat was completely knocked out on the third inning. Then came Gabbert, who proved to be a very small stumbling block for the McQuady boys. B. Owens did fancy pitching for the farm boys from the beginning to end and his twisters and speed proved to be too much for Lewisport.

The line up on each side were as follows:

Lewisport—Jackson, J. Griffin, Grant, Gabbert, Jones, W. Griffin, H. Owens, S. Brown.

McQuady—Dennie Jarboe, Harry Jolly, Paul Mattingly, Morris Miles, C. Prior, Percy Mattingly, B. Owens, Joe Crouch, H. Burnell.

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 Total

EX-SOLDIER TAKES ST. LOUIS GIRL FOR A BRIDE.

Mr. Frank Pate, an ex-soldier, and Miss Helen Schmelzer, of St. Louis, were married September 22, in that city.

Mr. Pate is the son of Mr. Ed Pate, of Cloverport, and has been in the regular army seven years. He received his honorable discharge the first of September after his return from overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Pate will make their home in Evansville, where the groom has a position in a manufacturing plant.

A WOMAN IN THE CASE.

Union Star, Ky., Sept. 29, (Special)—All things come to those who wait." The impatient citizens of this village should be indeed satisfied and should feel abundantly compensated for the long years of waiting for a really truly road-man to come and reward them by building up their streets (roads) even to the spending of days and even weeks in beautifying them. The "public square" is now on a solid foundation and several feet in each direction is also in solid foundation. But even at that there is always a "woman in the case," or maybe two.

Forcing Plants by Light. To force the growth of plants by the use of artificial light is not a new idea, but the system hitherto has been too expensive in proportion to obtainable results.

Recently a man engaged in horticulture discovered an efficacious method of applying light for this purpose. Arranging in winter quarters his plants as he wished them to grow, he supplies a lamp with mercury vapor for fuel and the seeds germinate in less than half the ordinary time, while the vigor and intensity of the color of the flowers is superior to that of the product grown naturally.

Another curious phenomenon noticed in connection with this action of light is an infinite multiplication of the downy substance commonly found on stems. Those grown in shadow have the stems relatively bare. Very good practical results have been obtained by this system.

ALL THE SAME PRICE.

"What kind of coal do you wish, mom?"

"Dear me, I am so inexperienced in these things. Are there various kinds?"

"O, yes. We have egg coal, chestnut."

"I think I'll take egg coal. We have eggs often than we have chestnuts."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

BETTER SIRES—BETTER STOCK

The first organized crusade in a large country to improve all its live stock simultaneously will get under way in the United States October 1.

Its slogan.—BETTER SIRES—BETTER STOCK.

Its aim.—To hasten the replacement of the multitude of scrub domestic animals with purebred or high-grade stock and to improve the quality of pure

Its main method.—Use of only good pure-bred sires in breeding. Sires in many cases to be owned cooperatively or exchanged.

Live stock included.—Cattle, horses and asses, swine, sheep, goats, and poultry.

Agencies cooperating.—The United States Department of Agriculture, the State agricultural colleges, State live-stock associations, county agents, farmers' organizations, agricultural and live-stock journals.

Reasons for campaign.—Quality and productive capacity of the average American farm animal are still low. Millions of farmers are wasting time and money on animals that give less returns for the same expenditure than would better stock.

Public cooperation.—More than 500 live-stock specialists have made suggestions on the plan of campaign. Further constructive ideas and suggestions from any source will be welcomed by the United States Department of Agriculture. The following statements embody about nine-tenths of the ideas advanced by the specialists:

Plan simple enough to be easily followed.

Federal department's chief interest will be to reinforce work of States and counties, not to concern itself with local details.

Department's energies mainly along educational lines, although many suggestions of legislation against scrub sires have been made.

Plan includes everyone who keeps any kind of domestic live stock, from the boy or girl with a few chickens to the extensive ranchman or breeder of live stock.

Scrub pure-bred sires as well as common scrubs should be eliminated.

Feeding and care fully as important as good breeding.

Local agricultural leaders in every community to decide whether campaign shall be intensive or conducted slowly.

Department to keep records of progress by counties and announce results periodically. States to be furnished with records, which they may keep as they desire.

Emblems to be furnished keepers of pure-bred sires of good quality in all their classes of live stock; an official recognition of meritorious effort, but not a guarantee of the quality of live stock.

Emphasis on the use of good pure-bred sires rather than on ownership.

Individual benefits and more efficient production to be stressed, rather than increased number of animals.

Each county to follow its own ideas as to the kind of stock its farmers should keep.

Farmers who do not care to take part will be asked to let their children do so.

The plan of campaign interferes in no way with any work in live-stock improvement now being conducted, but makes all the work more definite and effective by providing official recognition for progressive breeders.

Cloverport Methodist Church Will Be Supplied By Rev. Randolph.

The Methodist ministers of the Louisville Conference received their appointments for the year on Sunday at the last session of the conference which was held in Elkhorn.

The Cloverport Methodist church will be supplied this year by Rev. J. K. Randolph, who succeeds the Rev. W. O. Rickard. The latter returns to Owensboro from the Woodlawn church.

LONG ILLNESS COMES TO AN END

Miss Margaret Carter Sinks Into Eternal Rest. Buried In Mt. Marino Cemetery.

After a lingering illness of many weeks, Miss Margaret Carter peacefully slipped into eternal sleep on Saturday evening at midnight at the old Carter homestead on the Cloverport pike.

Miss Carter's illness was due to complications brought on from the effects of influenza which she had last winter. She had been in declining health all through the summer and for the last week the end was momentarily expected.

The funeral was held Monday morning at 8 o'clock in the St. Rose Catholic church. Rev. J. S. Henry said the high requiem mass, and at the conclusion of this Rev. Henry paid the most beautiful tribute to the life of Miss Carter. In his tribute he spoke of her supreme devotion to her church and of her prayer life.

Following the service at the church the remains were accompanied to Irvington on the morning train by members of the family and a few close friends, for burial in the Mt. Marino cemetery.

The casket was borne by Miss Carter's five brother, Worland, E. Frank, Bernard, Tom and Floyd Carter, and a cousin, Floyd Roberts, of Irvington.

Miss Carter was born in the home in which she died. While she was a little girl her parents, the late Fladie Carter and Mrs. Kate Greenwood Carter, who survives, moved to Irvington and Miss Carter lived there until about twenty years ago when the family returned to Cloverport. Miss Carter's life was lived in a very simple and unpretentious manner, and aside from her devotion to her church, she was endowed with many lovable virtues that were known best to those with whom she was closest associated.

With the mother and five brothers, a sister, Sister Mary Raymond, of Sacred Heart Academy, Louisville, survives.

Accompanying the family to Irvington from this city were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ridgeway, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mattingly and Mrs. Joe Beavin, Frank Greenwood, of Holt, Joe Carter and Charley Greenwood.

Not Playing The Game.

It was last Friday that Mr. William Bullitt upset the beanpot before the Foreign Relations Committee. The echoes are still reverberating through the press of two continents. London, Paris, Washington and New York are commenting and wondering.

It will be remembered that the American Peace Commission sent Mr. Bullitt last February to report on conditions in Soviet Russia. His report was never made public. It now appears that it was largely favorable to the Moscow Government. Questioned about it in Parliament at the time, Premier Lloyd George virtually denied all knowledge of the report and of Mr. Bullitt himself.

Mr. Bullitt's version is that he made a complete report to Premier Lloyd George over a Paris breakfast table one morning shortly before the aforementioned questioning. He also declares that Sec. Lansing remarked to him as late as May 17 that if the Senate and the American people could understand what the treaty and the league meant they would reject them.

So far Sec. Lansing has refused to comment. Premier Lloyd George has made a denial which satisfies neither the Liberal press of England nor the reactionaries. The reactionary London Post blames Mr. Bullitt for telling: "It is against the first laws of the game."

"What game?" The Westminster Gazette explains. "Mr. Bullitt was unaware," it says, "of one of the best-established rules of the Old World in regard to a semi-official emissary. That is, he goes at his own risk. If he succeeds, his official patrons will take the credit. If he fails, they cast him off." The Gazette then goes on to say: "All the same, Lloyd George will have to take this incident seriously, for unsophisticated people do not understand these things."

Fortunately, "unsophisticated people" are coming to understand these things only too well. The "first laws of the game," as suggested by the London Post, appear to be that there are two varieties of truth: a true truth which is for official consumption only; and another variety which is fed out to pacify "unsophisticated people." We are getting tolerably familiar with that game. The war resulted from it.

Coolly to ignore Mr. Bullitt's disclosures (questionable as may have been the ethics of his making them) is not going to dispose of the questions which have been raised by them. The people who suffered and sacrificed in the war have a right to have them answered and answered explicitly.

MEADE COUNTIAN WINS PRIZE.

Only One Kind of Right Action.

Rightness expresses of actions what straightness does of lines; and there can no more be two kinds of right action than there can be two kinds of straight lines.—Herbert Spencer.

ASSERTS LIQUOR IS BEING SOLD NOW.

J. Sherman Porter, Publicity Man for State-Wide Prohibition Federation, Says Such Reports Have Been Made to Collector and District Attorney.

"I would like to impress the fact that the State-Wide Prohibition Federation is engaged in no anti-tobacco movement," said J. Sherman Porter, publicity man for the federation, this morning.

"Our entire energies are being devoted to the adoption of the State Prohibition Amendment, regardless of the National Amendment. The State Amendment is submitted this fall and on a separate ballot, we ask the voters to remember that and to request the officers of the election to give them that ballot."

"After the State Amendment is adopted, the Federation is very likely to assist in the matter of obtaining law enforcement legislation at Frankfort."

"We have information that saloons of Louisville, Lexington, Newport and Covington still are selling booze and drunken men have been seen the past two weeks in all these cities."

"Both Collector Elwood Hamilton, of the revenue office at Louisville, and District Attorney Thomas D. Slatery, of Maysville, have had these reports. I do not know how true they are, but the police of all these cities know whether booze is being sold or not and can stop it instantly if they want to. They can not escape responsibility on the ground that no law enforcement legislation has been passed. The selling of liquor without a license violates the ordinances of all these towns and cities and the public, liberal as well as dry, will uphold the heads of the police departments in enforcing law, and it ought to be done vigorously."

FISHING LAWS.

Having secured license it is lawful to take fish from the Mississippi, Ohio, Big Sandy, Tug Fork of Big Sandy and Tennessee Rivers with Hoopnets without wings and with Seines, mesh of which is not less than $\frac{1}{2}$ inches square, and from the Levisa Fork of Big Sandy, Kentucky, Green Barren, Rough and Cumberland Rivers with Hoopnets without wings and with Seines, mesh of which it is not less than 2 inches square, under the following conditions:

Unlawful to place or use nets or seines within 200 yards of the mouth of any river or stream or within 200 yards of any lock or dam or in any part of the river above the last lock or dam or in any part of the river above the last lock and dam of any of the streams mentioned above.

Unlawful to take fish from any stream, except those mentioned above in any manner, except with poles and lines, hand lines, set lines or trot lines.

Unlawful to fish with seines or nets during the month of May (spawning season).

Unlawful to own, operate, store or possess nets or seines without first procuring license. All nets or seines in or out of use without license tags attached or under the legal size mesh will be destroyed and owners prosecuted.

Black bass (large or small mouth) if caught in nets or seines must be returned uninjured to the water from which taken.

LICENSE FEES.

One resident hoopnet license and one tag, $1.25. Tags for additional nets, $1.00 each.

One resident seine license and one tag for seines of 100 feet, $5.25. For each additional 100 feet or fraction thereof, when sein exceeds 100 feet in length, $2.00. For each additional seine of 100 feet, $2.00. Non-resident hoopnet or seine license double the fees charged for resident license.

Penalties for violations, $15.00 to $100.00—Jail sentence and confiscation of seines and nets.

County Court Clerks in counties where lawful to use nets will issue the license to residents and non-residents and will explain the provisions of the law, or information and copies of the laws will be furnished upon request from this office.—Game and Fish Commission, Frankfort, Kentucky.

No changes have been made in the hunting laws.

WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN LARGE EXPENSE.

It is estimated that the railroads and the Pullman Company will get about $35,000 out of this trip. Of this more than half comes out of the newspapers for transportation for their representatives each of whom had to lay down $750 before the train left Washington. Meals and other expenses, such as autos, laundry, clothes pressing, tips, telegrams and other necessary expenses will bring the newspaper expenses up to $50,000 for covering this errand of the President to a part of the people of the country. Added to this is the Government's bill for the President and his party, and a safe estimate of the cost of the trip is $75,000.—Louisville Times.

40 WINTERS
40 SUMMERS--SINCE THEN
HAVE ROLLED AWAY

Forty winters and forty summers have rolled away since persons who are living and well today first took the prescription for "Number 40 For The Blood." "Number 40" is compounded from ingredients that are set down in the U. S. Dispensatory and other authoritative medical books as follows: Employed in diseases of the glandular system, in blood poison, mercurial and lead poisoning, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, constipation, liver and stomach diseases. Under its use, sores, ulcers nodes, tumors and scrofulous swellings that have withstood all other treatment disappear as if by magic."

Arbor Day Set, And Observance Urged, By Gov. Black.

Frankfort, Ky.—For the first time since the beginning of the war Arbor day will be generally observed in Kentucky, October 31, the date arranged by Gov. Black and J. E. Barton, commissioner of forestry and geology.

A feature of the occasion probably will be planting of a tree on the State Capitol grounds by Gov. Black and Commissioner Barton, who urge that memorial trees in honor of the soldier dead be planted.

They are especially anxious that the selection of trees, places and method of planting be made so that the trees will grow and perform valuable service.

To that end Commissioner Barton is prepared to give advice and is planning to interest schools and civic organizations in observance of Arbor day.

Probably the majority of the trees planted will be sugar, scarlet and Norway maple, white green ash, chinquapin and burr oak, sycamore, yellow popular, and sweet gum, or one the dozen pine and other evergreens that thrive in Kentucky.

Many a fool would be taken for a philosopher if he only kept still and looked wise.

To the Breckinridge County Boys:

Being imbued with a spirit of thrift and enterprise, and knowing the destiny of our commonwealth is soon to be delivered into your hands, I should like in some way to be instrumental in aiding or encouraging you noble boys to establish your foundation on a business basis. Realizing fully that I am not in a position at this time to assist all of you in this meager way, yet my heart throbs in love for every mother's boy. Some of you will be fortunate enough to enter this contest, others will not be permitted. To those who are not, I wish to impress with the fact that my interests are just as intense, and I will in some way be just as eager to help and encourage as the more fortunate who will be enrolled in this event.

My plan is this, I wish to invest $100.00 to be credited to the accounts of twenty farmer boys in Breckinridge county. This will entitle each boy to $5.00. This amount will be placed to your credit in the Bank of Hardinsburg and Trust Co., and will be a small beginning for you, I wish for you not to value this donation, for its intrinsic value but place upon it my motive, which is purely to help you begin, and encourage you in your business career. The age limit in this contest is for boys 12 years old, and under. You must be boys of farmers living on a farm. It will be for your discretion as to whether you invest this amount or not. The money will be placed to your credit on December 1st, 1919. On January 1st, 1921, I will pay a premium of $25.00 in gold to the boy who has made the best monthly average of increase to his account, and makes the best total of his credit on date named, Jan. 1st, 1921. This contest is for beginners. Boys who are now blessed with accounts in bank, are not eligible to compete for this prize. I will ask the bank to issue you monthly statements just as they do all patrons of the Institution, this is done, that I may take your measure. I want to see a study and uniform growth of your accounts, your efforts, are not to be confined to the revenue of my donation. Your funds may be increased in any way you may secure them, except by gifts from parents or interested friends, I want to encourage thrift, energy and business by self reliance and perseverance. The manner of selecting these twenty boys is as follows:

The county is composed of six Magisterial Districts, the first district is entitled to 4 contestants, the second, three; the third, three; the fourth, three; the fifth, three; the sixth four, making a total of twenty. The applicants are requested to send their names and address plainly written to the Bank of Hardinsburg and Trust Co. The time to begin is right now. The books will be closed on November 30th. There will be provided a Ballot Box representing each of the 6 districts. The names of the contestants will be placed in the box of their respective district. On December 1st, after a thorough shaking and mixing of the Ballots, the quotas are drawn from each box, and the accounts are open on the books of the bank in favor of the successful aspirants.

I trust each little man in our county will feel at liberty to enter into this contest. I love every one of you, no mark of courtesy from you, could mean more to me than your recognition of my efforts to encourage you, and aid you in securing for yourselves lives of usefulness upon a plain of highest possible attainment.

Fondly and sincerely,
VIC ROBERTSON.

WHAT WE NEED AND WANT.

This town needs water-works and a sewerage system to safeguard the health of our people and attract other people to come here and live. If we ever expect to grow and be an up-to-date town we must have a system of water-works. We are able to build them and why put it off longer. We have one of the best electric light plants in the state, plenty of natural gas and a fine ice plant and with a good water system we would be an ideal town. Let's get busy now, right now!

FARM AND STOCK

In the nation-wide campaign to promote the general use of pure bred sires and better livestock the United States Department of Agriculture will keep records of the agriculture countries according to the breeds of livestock which predominate in them. Practical experience has demonstrated the desirability of communities concentrating on the production of only a few breeds and types of the different classes of livestock. This will enable the individual farmers to aid each other in improving and upgrading their stock, but also gain for the community a wide reputation as a center for certain breeds. It would be well for the raisers and breeders in Breckinridge county to get together on certain dominant breeds and make this market attractive for large buyers. So when they visit this county they can buy in large quantities and get what they want.

General Presing's war horse, "Kidron" that the General rode through the war to victory is being detained at the port of entry for five months, until the Government veterinarians know that he is a safe animal to be at large in horse society in the United States.

Mules sold in Garrard county last week at prices ranging from $42.50 to $270. These mules will be shipped to the Southern markets in October.

Five yearlands were sold in Bath county at $70 per head.

Hens that are not laying eggs are not fit only for food and the sooner they are got to the market, the smaller will be the feed bill.

One breed of purebred chickens for each county is the aim of the standardization work of the Extension Division of the College of Agriculture. Eighty five counties in this state are now developing this plan. It is estimated that three-quarters of a million of pure bred eggs will be sold in Kentucky during the spring of 1920.

There was a nice show of pure bred chickens on exhibition at the Two-County Fair.

Much soil fertility is lost every winter by soil washing or erosion. Put a stop to it by keeping the hilly lands in sod, planting a cover crop, underdrainage, filling the gullies with brush etc.

Watch your hogs carefully each day for failure to feed or other signs of disease or sickness. Have a quarantine pen and place sick hogs in it promptly.

At one Louisville warehouse Burley sold up to $60, another warehouse sold Burley up to $50.50. A large number of sales were made at between $30 to $40. Dark reached $22.50.

Kentucky's crop prospects now indicate the production of 424,490,000 pounds of tobacco compared to prospects July 1, for 442,178,000 pounds and 427,500,000 pounds produced last year, according to the Government crop report issued by H. F. Bryant, field agent for the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. Good growing weather now, however, is likely to increase this estimate very much before the tobacco is all cut, as there was a large acreage of late tobacco that is growing fast now and the total acreage is considerably greater than last year. The United States crop of tobacco is now estimated at 1,279,000,000 pounds compared to 1,340,000,000 pounds produced last year.

Dr. D. S. Spire has bought 31 acres of land within the city limits of Hardinsburg, from Rev. Lennon, price $5,000. This is a valuable piece of property. Dr. Spire will build a nice home on it for himself and the balance will be laid off in town lots for others to build on.

Our old friend William Glasscock, of McDaniels, was visiting his son, James Glasscock at Garfield, Monday. He goes from there to visit his son, E. E. Glasscock, of Bowling Green. Mr. Glasscock is hale and hearty at 80 years.

Finley Brown sold his crop of Burley to Beard Brothers for a good round price. Herbert Beard said it was one of the finest crops they had bought in the county.

Joe Mattingly and Felix Beavin, of Mattingly, were delivering their crop of Burley to Beard Brothers last Monday. Joe got a premium of a fine pair of shoes, socks and a year's subscription to The Breckenridge News for handling his tobacco so nicely.

John Miller buyer for Beard Bros. Hardinsburg, was here Tuesday. He says he has about cleaned up all the unsold crops in the county.

Every farmer boy under twelve years old should read carefully Vic

Robertson's advertisement in this issue. It is an interesting proposition to boys under 12 years.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Bennett, of Custer, spread a very delightful lunch at the bi-county fair. It was the writer's great pleasure to be at this feast of good things. Grandfather John Bennett was present and in the prime of life at 84.

Thos Withers and Gus Shellman, Hardinsburg, were two men that had a good time at the fair. They remarked that it was the best place and only place for a county fair. That they prefered going away from home to see a fair than seeing one at home.

CLOVERPORT IN 1860

Taken from a scrap book of Mrs. Josephine Pumphrey, Holt, Ky.

Two Towns United.

A meeting of the citizens of Cloverport was convened last evening pursuant to notice at Haynes Hotel for the nomination of candidates for the office of Police Judge, Marshall and Trustees under the charter recently granted by the Legislature uniting the towns of Cloverport and lower Cloverport in one corporation.

The meeting was organized by calling Col D. R. Murray to the chair, and appointing I. T. Morehead, secretary. The Chair stated the object of the meeting, and on motion the meeting went into nomination of candidates, when the following persons were recommended as suitable ones for the office: J. C. Babbage, Police Judge; Wm. Vest, Marshall; W. B. Jones, A. L. Simons, Dud Hambleton and Allen Murphy, Trustees.

The election took place on Monday the 21st. We suppose there will be no other candidates for the different offices. At least there should be so as there will be more interest taken in it than there would be with only one set of candidates.

We learn that Col Boyd has purchased the residence generally known as the Calvin's home. It is the most beautiful site and building in this section of the country.

The splendid passenger steamer Grey Eagle is the regular Thursday packet for Henderson, Capt. Daniel has command, and our friend Duncan is in the office. We are thankful to the clerk for river passes. The steam-Sciotio is the regular packet for Louisville today. She is a good boat. A popular one too. Our good looking friend Duvall is in the office. We are in debt to Ward Payne of the steamer Kentucky for river passes also.

A Magistrate's Decision.

Some years ago when magistrates were vested with the power to marry, a case came before a venerable magistrate of this county which we cannot forbear giving to our readers. The couple was put on the floor and the usual form gone through with when the magistrate declared them man and wife so long as they should remain in Breckinridge county as his jurisdiction did not extend out of the county.

High School.

By reference to an advertisement to be found in another column of this week's paper it will be seen that Mr. J. W. Heagan intends opening a male and female high school. We need such in our own town badly, and we are glad to announce the fact that we are to have Mr. Heagan come to us highly recommended as a teacher and a man of high literary attainments from the place he was heretofore engaged. Mr. Heagan has been teaching in Yelvington for the past two years. He will be assisted by Mrs. Heagan, who is a graduate of the best college in the country and a lady of superior qualifications as a teacher.

"I'll admit that I didn't have much faith in Trutona at first but it soon proved to be the medicine for my ailments." Mrs. Benner continued. "I used to suffer severe bilious attacks. No one knew the terrible feeling I'd experience during those spells. Sometimes they would attack me while I was down town and I'd have hard time getting home. My appetite was so poor there was hardly any kind of food that would tempt me. My liver has been out of shape for the past two years."

"After I had taken three bottles of Trutona I realized it was helping me and now, with the fourth bottle finished, the bilious attacks have ceased to occur. I haven't had a spell for the past week. My kidneys are in better shape, too. I can truthfully recommend Trutona to those who are suffering as I am."

Trutona is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and bowel troubles, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like effects of pneumonia, influenza deep colds and the like.

VETERINARY SURGEON

Dr. O. E. Hart, of Beaver Dam, will be in Hardinsburg the First Monday in October to treat all kinds of Live Stock. If you have any animals that need attention bring them to him.

E. A. HARDESTY

FINAL PRE-CONVENTION INSTRUCTIONS

1. The posts of Kentucky are desired to appreciate the fact that everything is yet temporary, and that State Headquarters has purposely withheld much that may have been sent out in the nature of direction to the end that all veterans may offer their original and constructive ideas in the building of a permanent state organization. We must build Kentucky's Branch as if it were to stand alone, and then we expect to make it stronger by adopting beneficial ideas gathered from other states and the National Convention.

2. When the post receives the call, if a meeting has already been arranged to elect delegates, call the post together and appoint committees, have call published and pledge members to conduct membership drive to increase representation.

3. First Annual Convention of American Legion Kentucky Branch is called to meet at Louisville at Watters Hotel beginning at ten o'clock A. M., on Friday, October 3, 1919, and continuing on Saturday, October 4th. The objects of the convention are enumerated in the official call, chief of which are to send delegates to the National Convention at Minneapolis, on November 10, 11 and 12, 1919, to elect officers and to transact such other business deemed proper.

4. By recent direction of the National Committee, post commanders must give notice, in writing, to each of their members of the date, time and place of meeting of the posts, at which meetings delegates to the State Convention will be elected. And also give notice of the number of delegates to which the posts are entitled in the State convention. The date for holding such post meetings shall be not later than Saturday, September 27, 1919, preferably on that date, and each post will be entitled to one delegate and one alternate, and to one additional delegate and alternate for each one hundred membership paid up by the day of said post meeting. While this determines the vote of the post, other members are invited to attend with the delegation. The post delegation of each Congressional District will meet at the State Convention and nominate an Executive Committee man for election by the convention.

5. The drive for membership directed by National Headquarters will continue in Kentucky posts until September 27, and the local posts are urged to send their delegates instructed on any and all matters deemed of interest to veterans and the convention.

6. The Caucus at St. Louis did not approve of a bonus for veterans; however, since that time, legislation has been suggested authorizing payment of same. Civilians have been compensated by bonus for services at home during the war. This is a matter much discussed and of distinctly individual interest that the officials of the Legion of Kentucky desire settled as the service men see fit. To go right, we must know their will. Invite expression and each post should come instructed.

7. There are millions of acres of public lands in the United States. It has always been the policy of our government to prefer veterans in the settlement of these. The men selected and accepted to defend the country are physically and otherwise best fitted to develop its lands. The Legion has the opportunity to demand preferential right for veterans, and there is a possible homesetad for practically anyone desiring it.

8. Right now the census is about to be taken. It is the declared policy of the government to prefer veterans. An enumerator is to be appointed in each precinct of Kentucky, we understand. The compensation will probably be four or five dollars a day. Each post should see that the unemployed and deserving veterans, or their dependents, receive due consideration.

9. The President visits Louisville on Monday, September 29, 1919. The Legion to furnish an escort of one thousand members in the parade. Any Kentucky member is welcome to thus participate in the reception.

10. It may be of interest to note that the Legion is not yet self-sustaining, notwithstanding no officer or member has received anything for services rendered. We are wholly dependent on the small dues to sustain the heavy expenses of this office and the organization, and prompt payment is necessary. Urge all to read the Legion Weekly and wear a Legion button.

11. Upon conclusion of the Post meeting, the Post Secretary will prepare in writing in quadruplicate a statement to be signed by the Post Chairman and himself, containing the following information:

(a) Date of approval by State Headquarters of application for Post Charter, and number assigned to Post.

(b) Total paid up membership of the Post five days prior to the State Convention.

(c) Total number of Delegates and Alternates to which the Post is entitled.

(d) List of names of Delegates and Alternates, designating whether Delegate or Alternate, and the Post Delegation Leader. Original and one copy of this statement will be delivered to the leader of the Post Delegation. One copy will be mailed at once to State Headquarters and one copy will be retained with the records of the Post.

As credentials, each delegate or alternate elected by the Post should be provided by the Post with a statement in writing, over the signature of Chairman and Secretary, certifying to his election.

12. The American Legion of Kentucky opened State Headquarters, only about seven weeks ago. Notwithstanding, we have had no outside financial support, we have forty chartered posts, and many others are in process of organization. The Legion has done and is doing more than is generally known. We interfere with no man's political or religious affiliations, but endeavor to stand right as evidenced by the following extract from the Official Call:

"This is the formal starting of a permanent organization for good in Kentucky; its basic principle is true Americanism and its chief purpose is unselfish service; it is a civilian, non-partisan organization which makes no distinction as to former rank and recognizes no titles, and it makes no discrimination whatever between any branch of the service at home or abroad. We recognize authority, wherever it exists, and stand first for our constitution, government and the rights of all thereunder—and we unequivocally condemn lawlessness, wrong and radicalism, wherever encountered, whether on the part of capital, labor or individuals, and earnestly advocate efficiency, integrity, "backbone" and economy in the administration of public affairs, especially during this period of reconstruction and general unrest. Let's perpetuate the truly Democratic principles for which America unitedly and unselfishly fought, and for which our brothers died. That Legion principles are becoming understood and its accomplishments known is evidenced by Louisville's one day drive securing a membership of a thousand."

Performance, not promises, advances our organization. Come to the Convention and get the real Legion spirit.

BELGIAN ROYALTY TO BE ENTERTAINED IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

Washington.—The King and Queen of the Belgians and the Crown Prince will be entertained in the White House when they come to Washington, October 1. Their suite will occupy the home of Larz Anderson in Massachusetts avenue, which was occupied by Baron Moncheur, head of the Belgian War Mission, which came to Washington, in 1917.

Mr. Anderson formerly was United States Minister to Belgium. The house will be opened for this occasion and will be closed afterward, as Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will not return to Washington until later for the season.

Mrs. Anderson is the only Washington woman, and probably the only American woman, who has been a personal guest of Queen Elizabeth in Belgium. She went to the temporary palace for a week-end visit while she was engaged in Red Cross work in Belgium. She lost her baggage enroute and wore at dinner her Red Cross garb in which she traveled. The Queen graciously supplied from her own belongings the necessary garments and toilet articles she needed during her visit, and on her departure they were placed in the carriage by the Queen's maid, packed in a smart royal traveling bag, with the compliments of the Queen.

Plans for the entertainment of the royal visitors will not be announced until the return of the President from the West.

LEAGUE CERTAIN
WILSON DECLARES*PRESIDENT IN OPENING SPEECHES OF TOUR VOICES HIGH HOPES.*WORLD WAITS FOR US

Future Free From War If America Carries Out Her Pledges, Says Executive.

"By Mt. Clemens News Bureau."

St. Louis (Special)—Displaying a high confidence that his fellow-citizens in the great majority agree with him in his desire to end war forever, and that they will see to it that the peace treaty with its League of Nations inclusion is ratified by the Senate, President Wilson is making a successful way across the country on the long journey he has undertaken for the purpose of laying before the plain people a report of his work in Paris and explaining to them just what the League means.

Thus far in his travels he has everywhere met with warm greetings, both in the great halls where he has spoken formally and in the little cross-road hamlets where his train has halted at times and he has exchanged words with the villagers who pressed forward to greet him. He feels, and does not hesitate to say so when chatting with his traveling companions, that the American people want no more of war and want to become part of the League so that there may be no more war. He struck his keynote when he said in his first address, in Columbus, Ohio:

"This treaty was not intended merely to end this single war. It is meant as a notice to every government who in the future will attempt this thing (what Germany attempted) that mankind will unite to inflict the same punishment. There is no national triumph to be recorded in this treaty. There is no glory sought for any particular nation. The thought of the statesmen collected around that table was of their people, of the suffering they had gone through, of the losses they had incurred, of that great throbbing heart which was so depressed, so forlorn, so sad in every memory it had of the five tragical years that have gone by. Let us never forget those years, my fellow-countrymen; let us never forget the purpose, high and disinterested, with which America lent its strength, not for its own glory but for the defense of mankind.

"As I said, this treaty was not intended merely to end this war. It was intended to prevent any similar war. I wonder if some of the opponents of the League of Nations have forgotten the promises we made our people before we went to that peace table. We had taken by process of law the flower of our youth from every countryside, from every household, and we told those mothers and fathers and sisters and wives and sweethearts that we were taking those men to fight a war which would end business of that sort, and if we do not end it, if we do not do the best that human concert of action can do to end it, we are of all men the most unfaithful—the most unfaithful to the loving hearts who suffered in this war, the most unfaithful to those households bowed in grief and yet lifted with the feeling that their lad laid down his life for a great thing, and, among other things, in order that other lads might never have to do the same thing.

"That is what the League of Nations is for—to end this war justly and then not merely to serve notice on governments which could contemplate the same thing Germany contemplated that they will do so at their peril, but also concerning the combination of power which will prove to them that they will do it at their peril. It is ideal to say that the world will combine against you; but is it perverse to say the world is combined against you. The League of Nations is the only thing that can prevent the recurrence of this dreadful catastrophe and redeem our promises."

A League of Nations would have prevented the late conflict, the President asserted, explaining:

"I did not meet a single public man who did not admit these things; that Germany would not have gone into this war if she thought Great Britain was going into it, and that she most certainly would never have gone into it had she dreamed America was going into it. And they all admit that a nation before hand that the greatest powers of the world would combine to prevent this sort of thing would prevent it absolutely."

Applause and cheers greeted each declaration of the President that wars might be avoided in future by the operations of the League.

He pointed out other important features.

tures of the peace treaty—how it was the redemption of weak nations, giving them freedom which otherwise they never could have won; how it says "these people have a right to live their own lives under governments which they themselves choose," and how "that is the American principle and I was glad to fight for it" that was the very heart of the treaty, he said.

He drew attention to the section of the treaty which is a "magna charta of labor," which shall dispose of the hours, conditions and remunerations of labor. "It forecasts the day," he said, "which ought to have come long ago, when statesmen will realize that no nation is fortunate which is not happy, whose people are not contented, contented in their lives and fortunate in the circumstances of their lives."

In conclusion, the President said he felt certain the treaty will be accepted, and was only impatient of the delay. He added: "Do you realize, my fellow-citizens, that the whole world is waiting on America? The only country in the world that is trusted today is the United States, and the world is waiting to see if its trust is justified."

Mr. Wilson's Indianapolis speech was, like the one at Columbus, an explanation of the League, an appeal for its ratification, and a prediction that it was sure to come into being.
